

Freycinet Lodge

A trip to Coles Bay and Freycinet National Park is not complete without visiting Freycinet Lodge. Featuring environmentally-friendly cabins, visitors are able to immerse themselves in the captivating views while they experience nature without sacrificing their creature comforts.

To protect the delicate environment, the cabins and pavilions are linked by raised boardwalks. Treadwell was engaged to supply the grating for these boardwalks.

Project Challenges

- Material had to remain robust while being permanently exposed to outdoor weather conditions.
- Installation should not disrupt the natural flora and fauna of the park.
- Decking had to be heel safe to accommodate users.
